

The Creation Story

In the beginning, God created the heavens, the earth, and all living things. The Creation Story shows us the power and beauty of God's work. It teaches us that everything God made was good, and that He made each of us in His image to care for His creation.

And He separated the light from the darkness. He called the light "day" and the darkness "night."

God said, "Let there be light," and He separated the light from the darkness. He called the light "day" and the darkness "night."

God made the sky and separated the waters above from the waters below, creating the heavens.

God gathered the waters together, allowing dry land to appear. He called the dry land "earth" and the gathered waters "seas." Then, He created plants and trees to grow on the earth.

God created the sun to rule the day and the moon to rule the night. He also made the stars.

God created the creatures of the sea and the birds of the air, blessing them to multiply and fill the earth and sky.

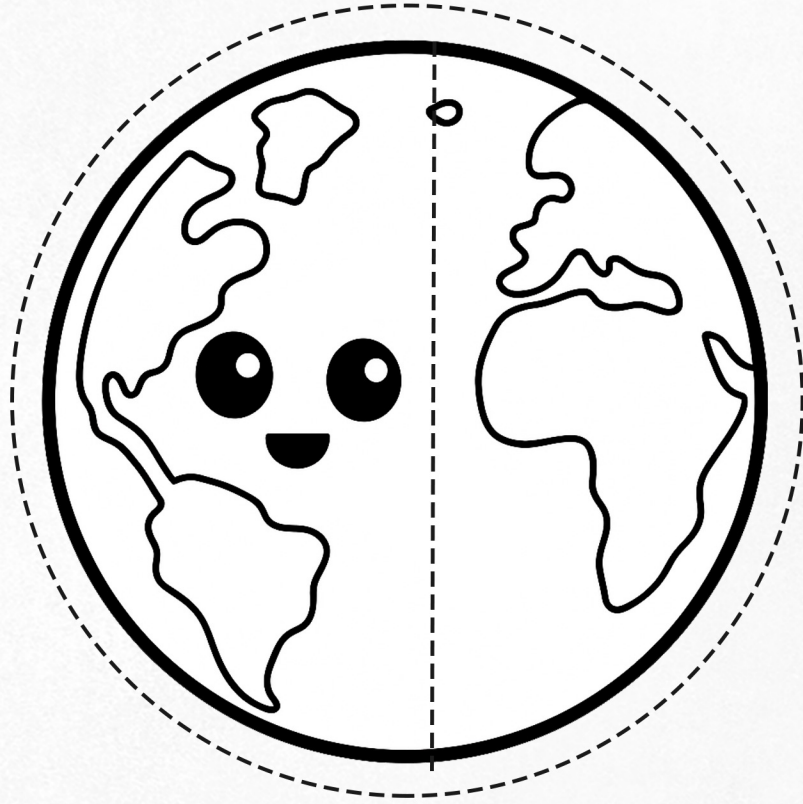

God created the animals on the land and finally, He created humans in His image, telling them to be fruitful and fill the earth, and to take care of all His creation. And on this sixth day, as the work of creation came to completion, God prepared for the final, seventh day of rest.
